Varsity cheerleaders were: Lisa Long, Tami Carroll, Julie Swanson, Julie Eddy and Kerry Key middle row Lynnette Kelly, Tina Wiford, front row Beth Kumpe, and Cyndi Hegna.

The 1978-79 year saw three new squads of cheerleaders who supported fall and winter sports. The sophomore squad was made up of eight members, junior varsity was ten, and the senior varsity was made up of nine. In July, twenty two of the girls attended the United Spirit Association camp in Logan, Utah from which they brought home numerous blue and red ribbons along with "Outstanding" Trophies by both the sophomores and junior varsity squads. During the fall, each squad cheered for its individual football team at all home and out of town games. In addition to selling annual ads, having bake sales, selling hot dogs at the Oil Bowl game, and participating in all the fall sports assemblies, the girls worked all season putting together scrapbooks for all senior football players and the coaches. The winter sports program had the squads dividing up each week to support both the boy's and girl's activities. The girls also had a concession stand for the Forensics tournament, ran an orange M & M's contest, sponsored a disco with the student council, took the Kelly Walsh cheerleaders to dinner and helped with a local Senior Citizens home "Rock and Roll" evening. The squads ended a busy season after Regional and State tournaments by helping provide entertainment at the Mr. Mustang contest. The captains for each squad was: Mary Swanson, Amy Palmquist, and Teri Burbank. Each squad selected an outstanding cheerleader from their group, this honor went to Beth Kumpe, Debbie Dalton and Teri Burback.

George Washington Slept Here

GEORGE WASHINGTON SLEPT HERE, a comedy about a city dweller who gets fed up with the life of the city. Newton Fuller decides to take his wife and daughter to the country to look at an old abandon farm house. Once Annabell, his wife, finds out that the floors are falling in she wants to leave. When she hears that her husband has bought the place with all of their life savings, she comes unstrung. Besides having the house ready to fall, the barn is also in sad shape. Madge, their daughter, helps talk her mother into staying and soon things start to shape up. The only problem was that their well, which was the deepest in the county, had no water.

Cindy Thorson has the honor of pinning David Bowen as "Mr. Mustang" as Todd Swanson looks on during the school ceremony.

Senior reflections

(Clockwise) H.L. Shaw looks ahead to the future. Julie Wait flashes one of her smiles that seemed to be a common trait of hers. Mrs. Houser presents Dan Creger with an award during the honor assembly at NCHS. Dances were a regular occurence to help students remember their school years.

Senior's emotions mixed

Definition of Americanism and Communism
76th
Congress House Report

"(A) AMERICANISM DEFINED: In the first place, Americanism is the recognition of the truth that the inherent and fundamental rights of man are derived from God and not from governments, societies, dictators, kings, or majorities. This basic principle of Americanism is expressed in the Declaration of Independence, where our immortal forefathers said that all men are created equal and that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, chief among which are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. From this declaration and the well-established interpretation• that have been put upon it from the beginning of the Republic down to the present mement, it is clear that Americanism recognized the existence of a God and the all-important fact that the fundamental rights of man are derived from God and not from any other source. Among these inalienable rights which are the gifts of man from his Creator are: (1) Freedom of worship; (2) freedom of speech; (3) freedom of press; (4) freedom of assemblage; (5) freedom to work in such occupation as the experience, training, and qualifications of any man may enable him to secure and hold; (6) freedom to enjoy the fruits of his work, which means the protection of property rights; (7) the right to pursue his happiness with the necessary implication that he does not harm or injure others in the pursuit of this happiness. Upon this basic principle, the whole structure of the American Government was constructed. ***

The American Government was established to guarantee the enjoyment of these fundamental rights. It therefore follows that in America the Government is the servant of the people. The characteristic which distinguishes our Republic from the dictatorships of the world is not majority rule, but the treatment of minorities. Dictatorships muster huge majorities at the polls, through intimidation and high-powered government propaganda, but these majorities are used for ruthless tyranny over minorities. The majority rule of the American form of Government is distinguished by its recognition of certain rights of minorities which majorities cannot alienate.

(B) COMMUNISM DEFINED: Communism is a world-wide political organization advocating: (1) the abolition of all forms of religion; (2) the destruction of private property and the abolition of inheritance; (3) absolute social and racial equality; (4) the revolution under the leadership of the Communist International; (5) engaging in activities in foreign countries in order to cause strikes, riots, sabotage, bloodshed, and civil war; (6) destruction of all forms of representative or democratic government, including civil liberties such as freedom of speech, of the press, and of assemblage; (7) the ultimate objective of world revolution to establish the dictatorship of the so-called proletariat into a universal union of Soviet Socialist Republics with its capital at Moscow; (8) the achievement of these ends through extreme appeals to hatred.

The Communists, like the Nazis and Fascists, believe and advocate that it is the duty of government to support the people and the right of government to exact blind obedience on all matters from the people. All three of these systema seek to regiment the people under bureaucratic and paternalistic governments through a system of planned economy. In the place of individual initative ambition and effort, they seek to establish a collectivism which will transform the individual into a slave of the state. Intolerance and hatred are preached in order to gain the people's adherence to the collectivistic philosophy, and the promise of economic security is constantly dangled before their eyes to lure them into slavery. The economic security of collectivisms is the security of a prison. People are asked to sacrifice their fundamental rights in return for the false promise that they will gain material comfort and economic security. It follows, therefore, that Communism is diametrically opposed to Americanism. It also follows that a scheme of philosophy of government or a teaching which embraces all or any essential part of the principles of communism is Un-American."
